Alex Petry of the National Broadcasting Company was present last night to explain the difficulties ahead. "Music composers and publishers have installed recording instruments throughout the United States in an effort to catch the radio stations napping," Mr. Petry said.

"If so much as one or two bars of a selection controlled by the Composers Society is played we are subject to fine of $250 per station. There will be approximately 150 stations hooked up to our Tournament of Roses broadcast," Mr. Petry said.

Plan Warning Flaps
A system of flaps and other warning devices will be erected to warn band leaders when they approach a radio microphone. Then they must switch to a non-controlled selection. No needles are allowed under the new restrictions. Mr. Petrey made a plea for the introduction of original music, a plea which was music to the ears of the band leaders, all of whom expressed eagerness to supply original tunes.

Audra Stong, leader of the Tournament of Roses Band, announced that he would maintain a "spare parts" department for the convenience of visiting band leaders.

"Every time I take our band out of town we lose a mouthpiece or find some boy has left some vital part of his equipment at home," Mr. Stong said. "We have a lot of spare instruments and parts and will have them available in the formation area New Year's morning."

Warned On Speed
Each band leader was cautioned to keep his band marching at the rate of 2 1/2 miles per hour. Any faster rates makes the parade pass so quickly that spectators do not have ample time to enjoy the floral masterpieces.

The leaders were urged to play frequently. Mr. Stong's band will play continuously the full length of the five-mile parade route.

Tribute was paid to H. M. Cole, for 16 years chairman of the music committee, who retired this year. Various band leaders expressed their appreciation of his years of loyal service.

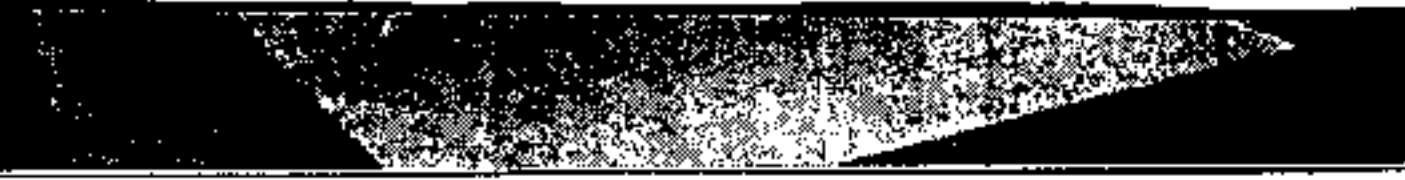

Others present from the Tournament organization included President J. W. McCall, Jr., Manager William Dunkerley, Assistant Manager Ray Maple, Chief of Staff William P. Welsh, Leon Delbridge, member of the music committee, and Max Colwell, publicity chairman.

Maybe They

"Stanford by four scores." Such will be the result of the New Year's Day classic, according to Rose Adams, 40, of 657 Carew Street, and Mary Oto, 26, of 654 North Kohler Street, both of Los Angeles. Whether "scores" means touchdowns or points the women did not explain.

No Investments
This "inside" information was given to Vice Squad Officers E. L. McKeller and Dale Whitecar. They are not making any heavy investments on the basis of the prediction, however, because the women were arrested at 11 North Fair Oaks Avenue on charges of violating the city fortune-telling ordinance.

Charge Fortune-Telling
The officers made the arrest after visiting the establishment, where signs proclaimed the women as ex-

What would a Tournament of Roses parade be without spectators? The answer to this question will never be known due to the thoroughness of traffic officials and police of cities adjacent to Pasadena in moving tens of thousands of automobiles through their cities and into Pasadena. These "men behind the scenes" carefully co-ordinate their traffic routes so traffic moves into this city on designated streets and in turn is directed to desired destinations by Pasadena officers.

Carter, Glendale; Chief A. E. Cherry, Alhambra; Chief Glenn F. McClung, San Marino; Earle B. Davis, engineer, state division of highways; and Chief Frank B. Higgins, South Pasadena.

Injured Boy's
Father Asks
$200,000

A $200,000 claim was filed yesterday with the Board of Education for injuries allegedly sustained by Gordon Zahler, 14, when he broke his back while diving over a "horse" in the apparatus room of Marshall Junior High Oct. 29.

The claim was filed by Lee Zahler, 101 East Laurel Street, Sierra Madre, father of the boy, who charges the Board of Education with negligence because of alleged faulty equipment.

Witnesses to the accident said Gordon, who was active athletically, jumped off a springboard to leap over the "gym horse" when his foot caught in one of the handles, throwing him to the mat. He landed on his head and neck.

Boy Paralyzed
The boy was rushed to the Emergency Hospital, transferred to St. Luke Hospital and later to the General Hospital, where he still lies.

Dr. John A. Sexson said the last time he visited the youth, the student was paralyzed from the neck down.

The father seeks $150,000 damages for the boy and $50,000 for himself.

Death Ends 20-Year Search

Search for a man and woman who disappeared from a small Ohio town 20 years ago ended here yesterday when the will of the man was filed for probate and the woman was named as one of six beneficiaries.

When notices of intention to probate the estate, approximating $10,000, were mailed to the legatees, Superior Judge Frank C. Collier received letters of inquiry. These letters revealed that the man who died and the woman, now residing in this city, had been sought by relatives in the east for 20 years.

When the man and woman left the Ohio town, according to Judge Collier's information, the man left a wife behind and the woman a 7-year-old daughter. Until notices of intention to probate the will were received in the East nothing had been heard as to the couple's whereabouts.

County Beach
Development
Approved

A long-range plan for acquisition and development of 44 miles of Los Angeles County beach frontage at an estimated cost of $15,134,000 was approved yesterday by the County Board of Supervisors.

The program was presented by the Regional Planning Commission, with the Shoreline Planning Association represented by a large delegation supporting the plan.

Guide For Future
Only changes from the plan originally submitted was omission of provisions for creation of a Shoreline Authority which would function as an independent governmental agency, and of clauses dealing with specific highway construction and beach restoration works along

Routing Planned

Thousands of cars which will come into Pasadena over the Parkway, which will be opened its entire distance, will be parked south of Colorado Street between Broadway and Hill Avenue. Traffic that would normally come into Pasadena over Orange Grove, Fremont and Fair Oaks Avenues will be detoured east to Los Robles Avenue in South Pasadena and San Marino so as not to conflict with the Parkway traffic.

Traffic that would normally come up Los Robles Avenue will be directed eastward to eliminate congestion on that street.

While it is expected that handling of all traffic into the city will be directed from the air by Chief of Police Charles H. Kelley, plans for this aerial direction have not been completed. Chief Kelley stated yesterday. The method by which this aerial supervision is conducted will depend on whether the plane will also carry a com-

Savant Backs Government,
Education Decentralization

Dr. Millikan Also Warns That Democracies
Must Unite Against Lawlessness

A plea for decentralization in both government and education, together with a declaration that the democracies must stand united against lawlessness, were voiced yesterday by Robert A. Millikan.

Chicago dispatches stated.

Worse Today

Dr. Millikan, chairman of the executive council of the California Institute of Technology, spoke at the 202nd convocation at the University of Chicago. He blamed the last World War on "the complete domination of education by the state in Germany," and said:

"Today it is very much worse because the centralization and control of the educational system enables the gangsters who have seized control of the government to use the whole machinery of education, including the press and the movies as well as the schools, for indoctrination, instead of education."

Dr. Millikan held that decentralization of government has been a large factor in permitting scientific and educational development.
